Interim Wellness Center closes July 31

- The top 10 reasons why the interim Wellness Center is closing are:
10. You spend more time waiting in line than you spend exercising.
 9. A few people went in the wrong doors of the Hyslop and were never seen again.
 8. The peaceful yoga music is drowned out by the sound of dropping weights next door.
 7. The treadmills cause tremors in the GX room that measure a 6.0 on the Richter scale.

6. You need to wear more than just a swimsuit in our third floor sauna.
5. If you can't climb to the fourth (and a half) floor of the Hyslop, you shouldn't take a spin class anyway.
4. Pilates: watch out for flying racquetballs!
3. Poor ventilation and high temperatures have created a smell worse than your gym bag.
2. The music surveys said so.
1. The new UND Student Wellness Center opens this fall!

The interim Wellness Center in the Hyslop has been a great temporary location that has served the needs of many students, faculty, and staff. We have enjoyed our stay here, but it's time to move on. The doors will close July 31 at 8 p.m., while we move to the new location at 801 Princeton Street.

What's with the wait?

We traded in the old equipment so that we could get all new, state-of-the-art equipment for the new building. That trade-in results in the closing of the interim center on July 31. Originally, the down time was only a couple of weeks, but a delayed construction schedule and the contractual obligations of trade in cause the down time to be extended. The good news is that the huge selection of fitness equipment will be all new when the doors open.

When the wait is over...

Are you up for some new fun and excitement on the UND campus? Do you think you can handle climbing a rock wall or take a high energy spin class? Can you beat out other UND students for a HUGE grand prize? The doors to the new $20 million Wellness Center, a gift from UND students, will open on Sept. 25. We will be busy preparing for your arrival until then so that you can be met with a huge welcome when the building is ready. We'll see you in September!

For more information about our transition to the new building, visit <http://www.wellness.und.edu/go.htm>.

Chamber Music Concert set for Aug. 10

The Chiara String Quartet will perform an evening of chamber music Thursday, Aug. 10, at the Faith Evangelical

Free Church, 2315 Library Circle, starting at 7:30 p.m. The quartet began their career with a residency at UND between 2000 and 2002, and have returned regularly since then to re-connect with students, perform concerts, and serve as faculty with the Greater Grand Forks Symphony's Red River Chamber Music Festival each August.

Lauded for "flawless ensemble" and "intense, riveting" performances, the Chiara String Quartet (Rebecca Fischer and Julie Yoon, violins; Jonah Sirota, viola; and Gregory Beaver, cello) was awarded first prize at the Fischhoff Chamber Music Competition, top prizes at the Premio Paolo Borciani International Competition in Italy and at the Astral Artistic Services Audition, placing the group on the Astral roster of outstanding young artists launching major professional careers. The Chiara was selected as the Juilliard School's Lisa Arnhold resident quartet from 2003-2005. Currently, the quartet serve as artists-in-residence at the School of Music of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

The members of the Chiara Quartet have mentored young musicians at Juilliard, Greenwood Music Camp, and Chamber Music at Snowmass, and have founded the Red River Chamber Music Festival, in Grand Forks. In addition, the quartet is taking a lead in developing a groundbreaking program in music entrepreneurship at the University of Nebraska. At the heart of their educational work is the belief that great live performance is the best way to connect people to music. In the words of Tim Smith of the Baltimore Sun, "this award-winning foursome clearly has what it takes to make a lasting mark in the chamber music world."

Tickets for the concert are $10 and may be reserved by calling the Symphony Office at 777-3359. Children 12 and under are free, but need tickets. Tickets will also be on sale at the door beginning one hour before the performance.

EPSCoR announces UND doctoral dissertation awards

The North Dakota Experimental Program to Stimulate Competitive Research (ND EPSCoR) has announced the 2006 Doctoral Dissertation Assistantship (DDA) awards at UND.

ND EPSCoR's DDA awards are designed to increase the completion rate of Ph.D. students enrolled in the science, engineering, and mathematics disciplines at North Dakota's research-intensive universities; and to increase the number of competitive proposals submitted to the National Science Foundation. Peter Alfonso, ND EPSCoR Co-Chair and Vice President for Research at UND noted that "the overall goal of ND EPSCoR is to increase the competitiveness of North Dakota for merit-based grants and contracts in support of science and technology research from federal funding agencies".

DDA support is available for up to 24 months to enable students to dedicate their time exclusively to dissertation research. Applications are made by the students with supplemental information provided by their advisors, along with endorsement from their graduate program director and department chair.

The seven awards made at UND were competitively selected from a total of 11 applications. Gary Johnson, ND EPSCoR Co-Project Director and Assistant Vice President for Research at UND, noted that “this is the largest number of DDA awards made in the history of the program at UND. The review committee was very impressed by the overall quality of the proposals.”

The 2006 DDA students, their departments and faculty mentors, and the topic of their approved research proposals are as follows:

- * Christian Biaku, Accra, Ghana, chemical engineering, advisor Michael Mann, “Large Scale Integration of Electrochemical Stacks with Distribution Networks: An Impedance Spectroscopy Approach.”

English teachers sought to teach in Warsaw, Poland

Lingua Nova Language School is in great need of English Teachers for this school year (end of September 2006 to June 2007). They will help you find an apartment, get your work permit and paperwork, and prepare you for teaching.

Lingua Nova is looking for people who are interested in traveling and getting to know a new culture. They must be friendly and able to speak clearly.

A teaching certificate is not necessary. You do not need to speak Polish to teach in Poland ... actually it is better if you don't. The teaching circumstances are ideal. Class sizes are from one to six students. The students are adults and college students who are very motivated and happy to speak English. The work load and hours are flexible. The salary is easily enough to live off of (it is comparable to what a teacher in North Dakota makes, even though the cost of living there is less). This is an ideal way to learn to teach or refine your teaching skills.

If you are interested or have any questions contact Jim Kambeitz before Sept. 1, at kambeitz@hotmail.com. In the title of your e-mail write, “Teaching in Warsaw” so that your message does not get sent to the junk mailbox.

-- Jim Kambeitz, Lingua Nova, Warsaw, Poland, and Ursula Hovet, English.

Please note parking lot changes

Because of the vast amount of construction occurring on campus there are several parking changes that are being implemented over the summer. The changes are necessary to facilitate the traffic changes created by the large construction projects and to improve parking lot utilization at various times of the day.

Chester Fritz Auditorium Lot:

- * Blue "S" parking will be added in the center of the lot.
- * "HW" spaces and permits will no longer be utilized. Both will change to the existing "H18" designation.
- * Some of the "HJFS" spaces will be moved to the southern part of the lot closest to Campus Road. This will allow for better lot maintenance, snow removal, and parking availability for events at the Chester Fritz Auditorium.

Harvard Street (Tabula) Lot:

- * The brown "G" general area will be moved to the smaller lot directly to the east.
- * The Tabula area that was "G" will then be rezoned as blue "S" parking.

Medical School:

- * Red "A" spaces have been increased by changing some of the green "HCC" to red "A".

Barnes and Noble:

- * Brown "G" spaces have been added on the north end of this parking area by converting some of the blue "S" spaces.

2006 Fee Schedule:

Student permits, $50/year; Faculty/staff permits, $58/year; meter rate, $.50 for one-half hour, $.25 for 15 minutes, $.10 for six minutes, and $.5 will be three minutes;

Visitor Pay lot, $1.50 for the first hour and $1 for each additional hour. Maximum fee = $5 per day. Free parking if stay is less than 30 minutes. Coupon books are $40 for 10 coupons.

Additional updates will be provided as changes are made. Please refer to the parking web site at www.parking.und.edu for current updates. Hard copies of a new parking "Quick Guide" are being printed along with updated maps. Both will be available soon.

Please contact the Parking Office at 777-3551 for questions. -- UND Parking Office.
